

Working in the US - Slang

Overview

Slang is all around us - at work, at home and in our community interactions. In this six to eight week training, intermediate/advanced Limited English Proficient workers will learn up to 20-40 American Slang terms that will help them in work and community interactions. Participants will use real situations to learn how to understand the terms effectively. The training may also incorporate vocabulary and materials used at work and in the community that relate to the topics of the training.

Course Objectives

- Slang due to relaxed speech
- Slang used when getting to know people
- Slang used in work situations
- Slang that the participants bring to each session

Who should take this course?

This workplace training will focus on serving workers with an intermediate-advanced foundation of the *English language. Interested participants should be able to answer questions with a complete sentence/reply and be able to independently ask questions of their own.