

Executive R.O.R. Return on Responsibility - Releasing the Power of Your Team!

Set your course on leadership success by becoming a part of this unique coaching experience. Together with other like-minded professionals, you will learn the keys to making sound decisions, gain insight into tackling business challenges and leverage your knowledge and skills in your position.

The Process

This 12-session Group Coaching process provides a structured, open and practical atmosphere that encourages candid discussions and interactive problem-solving. You will grow as a leader and identify the critical elements to help you sustain long-term success as the leader of your team. Everything learned can be directly applied to your everyday life, professionally and personally.

Sessions

Nine weekly sessions incorporate a dynamic blend of group discussion, facilitation and independent study to encourage learning on many levels, followed by three personal coaching sessions for continued growth. Your coach is Jerry Fons of Executive Power, LLC; see more at <http://www.executive-power.com/>. Groups are forming now; please call 262.695.6576 to register today!
