Interior designers have a flair for combining color and texture with design elements to create aesthetically pleasing and environmentally friendly surroundings. They keep the purpose of the space – and the people who will use it – top of mind, maximizing its functionality and creating a look that reflects individual personality and style. In the Interior Design program, develop a strong foundation in computer-assisted design, furnishings, lighting, textiles and sales. Learn the fundamentals for success in the field, including choosing interiors for residential and commercial spaces.

- Prepare for jobs such as design consultant, commercial environmental specialist, interior designer, showroom designer or commercial environmental specialist.

- Internship experiences provide technical, hands-on learning in real-world settings.

- The Interior Design Club allows members to share and explore ideas through the achievements and goals set by the club, and build camaraderie within the organization.
